

DATA4CHANGE

Portfolio check- list

2019

NAIROBI

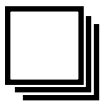

At DATA4CHANGE you'll be creating data driven projects in teams with people who have very different skill sets from yourself. We're looking for a 5-page portfolio that should showcase a few projects that you have worked on and are proud of. You can include collaborative and solo projects. It doesn't matter if you are a designer, developer, journalist or data researcher, you will have things to show in a portfolio!

Designers or developers you're probably used to preparing portfolio submissions to showcase your work and processes, so do your thing.

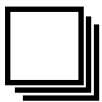

Journalists, the things we want to know are: what was your initial pitch and how did the project evolve, what angles and voices did you include and why, and how was the final story presented across different media platforms i.e. TV/film/print/radio/social media/web.

Data researchers, we want to know about your research methodologies as well as the process of gathering, cleaning, analysing and plotting the data. You could include screenshots of different steps of your process and use annotations to describe how these tied in with the final output.

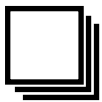

MAKE SURE EACH OF YOUR PROJECTS HAS AS MANY OF THE ELEMENTS BELOW IF APPLICABLE. DON'T STRESS IF YOUR PROJECT IS MISSING SOME OF THE ELEMENTS.

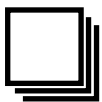

A title

A list of members of the team

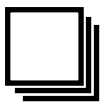

Your position in the team

Short description of your role

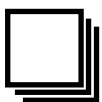

A short description about the project and its process

If there were any major issues how did you overcome them?

Images of the final output and process

Link to the final output